Welcome to the TLC

The Teaching and Learning Center serves as UC San Francisco’s nexus for clinical simulation, telemedicine education, active learning, and multimedia creation and delivery.

The TLC is available to UCSF students, faculty, and staff to support educational activities across the curricula and training programs. UCSF faculty and staff may book activities utilizing the diverse resources in the TLC. Students will appreciate that TLC classrooms, computer labs, and common areas are designed to meet their needs for technology-enhanced space for individual and group learning.
